REV. BOSTON COLLECTION

Index to Book 4 ("Your Church, Vol 8, No. 1")
Page 1

The following data was obtained from a collection of newspaper death and funeral notices. When the death notice was available, it is indicated with the letter "D"; funeral notice with the letter "F". Women's maiden names, when available, are included in parenthesis and the title "Mrs." omitted. The date of the article is normally the date Rev. Boston entered on the death notice clipping; the funeral notice when only it is available. (Many of these dates are the actual dates of death; however, some are dates the articles appeared in the newspaper.) A personal note (handwritten entry) by Rev. Boston will be indicated by "PN"; "FH" meaning Funeral Home Notice; "CR" for Clergyman's Record. A listing of cemetery locations follows the last page of this index.

ARTICLES AGREED BY THE INHABITANTS OF THE DISTRICT OF CAHOKIA

If YOU, my dear Reader, cannot read this ancient script of 1793, then look on the next page! Then you will know something interesting that YOUR ancestors had to live through in those early days on land that formerly belonged strictly to the Indians. [By the way that once being Indian Territory, that's how Indiana got its name - by adding the a on the end of it.

Articles agreed by the Inhabitants of the District of Cahokia

1 That each & every Inhabitant Who sowes any Grain of any Kind shall & will Shoot or Kill One hundred Black birds before nixt harvest ensueing & bring the aforsaid birds befor John Demullin Esquire on pain of paing the fine ordain'd by the Cotent

2 That all & every animal dieing withen the Bounds of the village of Cahokia or Laprerie depon shall & will be Intered or don away with by its owner in amaner that it may not break an disagreeable smell or any puterfaction on the Surface of the Ground ———

3 That all & every Inhabitant of the Villages afforesaid shall & will Cutt & Destroy all & every branch of Corenarre or any other Injurious herb before it Grows to Seed that is to say every one shall Cut as aforesaid the said herbs on there own Ground or streets, likewise on any other place or places which may be for the Utility of their Public Good

Cahokia May 7th 1793} James MacKay Foreman

On April 27, 1790, Arthur St. Clair, governor of the Northwest Territory, issued his proclamation creating St. Clair County. This county was divided into three judicial districts – Cahokia, Kaskaskia and Prairie du Rocher. Grand juries were called in each of the districts to create laws intended to solve problems inherent with frontier life.

Although uniform spelling and punctuation apparently were not major concerns of the inhabitants of Cahokia and Prairie du Pont (Dupo), blackbirds, dead animals and injurious weeds were. "Corenarre" may have been a plant which hosted a wheat rust, and John "Demullin" (Demoulin), recipient of the dispatched blackbirds, was one of the justices of the court of common pleas.

This 1793 document is presented to the public by JIM EDGAR, SECRETARY OF STATE AND STATE ARCHIVIST, on the occasion of the bicentennial of the formation of St. Clair County.
